EIGHT BIRDS BY PREVENTING THEM

Yuletide Beauty In Legend

Flowers burst into bloom and trees and shrubs were green with new leaves on the night of the Saviour's birth, so legend says. Down through the ages, certain flowers and greens have held an honored place in the lore of Christmas — the holly and the ivy, mistletoe, rosemary, the Christmas rose, the thorn tree.

Ancient peoples believed that mistletoe had powers to ward off evil or cure a variety of illnesses. Druid priests of Britain, long ago, believed that mistletoe should be cut with a golden knife, then hung over doorways as a protection from evil. The Greeks, too, used it to ward off evil.

One of many legends surrounding the poinsettia tells of a poor Mexican girl who, having no gift of value, humbly placed some roadside weeds at the foot of a statue representing the Virgin and Child. Insantly, the weeds became scarlet blossoms and thus, so the legend says, the poinsettia was created.

Rosemary, the symbol of constancy, was at one time widely used in England as a Christmas decoration. During the Victorian era, it lost popularity and is now seldom, if ever, seen as part of the Yuletide greenery.

An old story says that the fragrance of rosemary was given to it when Mary placed the Christ Child's garments on this shrub.

Like mistletoe, the brightly-berried holly was early credited with magical and medical powers. It could even, legend said, ward off the name of their future husbands.

Yule Customs Reveal Many Variations

The spirit of Christmas knows no boundaries. It lives in the hearts of men in many lands. Though its message of joy is always the same, the legends and lore of the season are as varied as the peoples who celebrate the Holy Birth.

Customs of each country may be similar, yet marked by their own individual character.

Cherished memories, heartfelt joys, children's laughter — everywhere, these mean Christmas.

M-e-r-r-y Christmas!

H-a-p-p-y NEW YEAR

Candlemas Eve Is Favored As Time To Remove Green

When is the right time to take down the Christmas greens? Before they become a fire hazard, is the modern belief, and that usually means soon after Christmas Day.

In earlier times, however, the question was not so easily answered.

Some people believed that Epiphany, or Twelfth Day, January 6, was the proper time for removing all Christmas decorations. Others firmly contended that the greens should remain until Candlemas, February 2.

One of those favoring the later date was, apparently, the poet Robert Herrick, who lived from 1591 to 1674. He wrote of taking down the greens in his poem, "Ceremonies for Candlemas Eve," but warned that the greens must be completely removed.

"For look how many leaves there be Neglected there (maids, trust to me)
So many goblins you shall see."

Deal-McClenny Vows Exchanged

MRS. WALTER FRANKLIN DEAL III

THE FORMER MISS MARY WILSON MCCLENNY

Miss Mary Wilson McClenny, daughter of Mr. Robert Edward McClenny of Pamplin and the late Mrs. McClenny, became the bride of Walter Franklin Deal, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Franklin Deal Jr. of Newport News, December 20 at First Baptist Church, Newport News.

Dr. Bruce H. Price performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. W. F. Burke.

Miss Julia Ford Williams was organist and Mrs. J. Preston Haynes, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and net over taffeta designed with long sleeves, and a rounded skirt ending in a chapel train which featured a Watteau back bow appliqued with lace and embroidered with pearls. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. William E. Mahone, Jr. of Newport News, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert G. Smith, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. James R. Wright, Jr. of Newport News; and Mrs. John M. Austin of Farmville. They wore gowns of brocade and crepe which featured empire bodice of strawberry pink brocade with a scooped neck and short sleeves and A-line pink skirt with a panal back to match the bodice. Their headpieces were dyed to match daisy spray with matching tulle. They carried a single long stemmed pink sensation rose with matching ribbon.

Mr. Deal served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Robert E. McClenny, Jr. of Pamplin, brother of the bride, Robert G. Smith and D. Thomas Wessells of Newport News.

Mr. Thomas E. Skorupa of Newport News was mistress of ceremonies.
